MEMORANDUM

TO: All Retirement Boards and Interested Parties
FROM: Joseph E. Connarton, Executive Director
RE: Correction of Address for the New Bedford Public Library Public Hearing and Informal Public Discussion on Proposed Regulation Amendments
DATE: April 18, 2002

- The notice of the Public Hearing at the New Bedford Free Public Library (see PERAC Memo #18/2002) on Thursday April 25, 2002 at 1:00 PM included the incorrect address for the library. The correct address is: 613 Pleasant St., New Bedford, MA; phone (508) 991-6275. Directions to the New Bedford Free Public Library are:

From the intersections of I-93, Rte. 3, US 1 and I-95 - take Route 1 South to Route 140 South to I-195 East, exit 2E; follow I-195 East, take the Downtown ramp, exit 15, to Route 18 South. Follow this until the Downtown exit which is a right at the first set of lights onto Elm St.; take the sixth left onto Sixth St. Go one block to William St. which is a one way. Take a left onto William St. The library entrance is half way down the block directly across from City Hall.

I apologize for the confusion and any inconvenience created by Memo # 18 relating to the New Bedford site.

- In addition to the previously announced Public Hearings and Comment Period (see PERAC Memo #18/2002), PERAC will hold an informal public discussion concerning the Proposed Regulation Amendments on Monday, May 6, 2002 at 10:00 AM in the PERAC Training Room, 5 Middlesex Ave., 3rd Fl., Somerville, MA. At this informal public discussion, the Commission will accept further public comments, both oral and written, on the Proposed Regulation Amendments.

You are encouraged to attend this informal public discussion. Comments may also be sent to the Public Employee Retirement Administration Commission, 5 Middlesex Avenue, 3rd Fl., Somerville, MA 02145.
